Examiner's Amendment

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with William Ritchie on September 29, 2005.

Examiner's Amendment

In claim 1, line 20, at the end of "conducting sensor tip at a", insert --first--.

In claim 1, line 23, at the end of "at the", insert --second--.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-4 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The present invention is directed to a liquid level sensor, in particular, the use of a conductance measuring sensor to determine the level of a conductive liquid contained within a vessel. The independent claim identifies the uniquely distinct features, the liquid level sensor comprising "an exposed tip of a bias wire which exits said insulated probe positioned between said attachment end and said sensor end such that a bias voltage at said exposed tip provides a virtual bias voltage circumferential ring around said insulated probe immediately adjacent to said exposed tip; wherein the bias voltage of the virtual bias voltage circumferential ring has a polarity opposite of said ground connection wherein the bias voltage corresponds to the voltage of said conducting sensor tip; wherein once the fluid is in contact with said conducting sensor tip at a first predetermined level, a circuit is completed to said ground connection which indicates a "full" condition and wherein if the liquid is not in contact with said conducting sensor tip at the second predetermined level a "not full" condition is indicated, and wherein the bias voltage of said virtual circumferential ring prevents a false indication of a "full" condition by preventing the completion of circuit from said conducting sensor tip to said ground connection via residue on the container walls and said insulated probe even when the liquid is not in contact with said conducting sensor tip". The prior art cited herein fail to anticipate or render the above limitation obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art of Arias (US 6,938,478), Queyquep (US 5,907,112), and Jack et al. (US 5,167,769) are cited to show a variety of level sensors.
